Experience:

Ed Snieckus joined Burgis Associates, Inc. in 1994 following the merger with his former associated firm, The Stewart Group. As partner and senior site planner, he performs the direction and design of the firm's Site Planning and Landscape Architectural projects in addition to providing professional planning services for municipal and private clientele.

His expertise includes the conceptualization, visioning, design development and construction supervision of residential, commercial, mixed use and numerous public-sector improvement projects. He represents for the firm, several municipalities in the review of subdivision and site plan development applications and the preparation of land use regulations, master plans, housing elements and redevelopment plans. In support of projects he provides expert testimony to Planning and Zoning Boards. He also manages the firm's construction implementation, management, and inspections for landscape architectural projects.
