2018 Johnson & Johnson Campaign for Nursing's Future - Minority Nurse Faculty Scholars Program Reviewer. This scholarship program is designed to address the growing shortage of nurse educators while diversifying the nurse faculty population in the United States. In addition to seeking out individuals committed to a new career in nursing education, this program also will expand the number of culturally-competent nurse educators available to teach an increasingly diverse student body. Five Scholars were selected and awarded $18,000.

Curricular Development - Courses and Programs Developed for Rutgers University

2016 – Development of a Spanish Immersion Health Care Provider course. This course will be an interdisciplinary course with the opportunity to travel to Oaxaca, Mexico to learn about the health care delivery system in the community setting and the associated challenges of a public health system. Students will participate in a health promotion program within a local primary school which has students from pre-kindergarten to sixth grade. Students will travel with students from the University of the Sea (UMAR) which is part of the State University System of Oaxaca (SUNEO) to conduct health surveillance, education, and vaccinations. In March of 2016, I travelled to UMAR in Puerto Escondido, Mexico to meet with the program director and faculty from the School of Nursing. While I was there, I visited five regional Centros de Salud and the Bloom School which we will be partnering with to provide this practicum experience.

2015-2016 RUSN School wide Curriculum Committee – Member at large. This group reviews curricular changes recommended by the divisional curriculum committee to determine readiness, validity, and need prior to full faculty review and adoption.

2015 Changing from DNP Capstones to DNP Projects. I was responsible for interpreting the American Colleges of Nursing August, 2015 white paper which outlined recommendations for the DNP Project and bring to the faculty changes to our curriculum and program for consistency with this guideline. This resulted in new course titles and process changes throughout the DNP program curriculum. To address faculty concerns, the poster presentation session was also modified for 2016 to include a formal scheduled presentation for each participant. In 2016, we expect 23 individual or group presentations.

2014-2015 Change from DNP Capstone presentation to DNP Capstone Poster presentation session. I proposed and ultimately lead the change from private small group presentations to a full poster session with presentations. This allowed for a larger audience and opportunity for greater dissemination of the DNP student's work. In 2015 we had 17 individual or group posters presented.

2014 -2015 Mindfulness for Healthcare Providers elective course. I developed the course syllabus and plan for this proposed interdisciplinary course in collaboration with Siobhan Gibbons, EdD from Counseling Applied Psychology at Rutgers. This course has been approved by the Advanced Practice Division, 5/2015, school wide curriculum committee and full faculty.

2014-2015 DNP Project Task Force Chair. Responsible for convening a group of School of Nursing faculty to determine a plan for the future of the post masters and post baccalaureate DNP student projects. This included reviewing other universities project plans for students and presenting recommendations to the taskforce and full faculty.

2014-2015 Bylaws Committee members responsible for the development of the merged School of Nursing bylaws document in compliance with both RU and RBHS policy.

2013-2014 Harmonization of legacy UMDNJ curriculum with RUCON program resulting in the following courses: DNP Capstone Seminar, Project Planning and Evaluation, Implementation I, Implementation II, Evidence Based Inquiry.

2012-2013 Clinical curriculums revised to move from three theories and practicum series to a minimum of a four course progression for the DNP student. I was personally instrumental in this curricular improvement for all specialties. I worked specifically on the Adult- Gerontology and Family Nurse Practitioner track to reflect the following trajectory of courses with the first theory and practicum focusing on health promotion, disease prevention, and screening for all adults across the lifespan, the second focusing on acute episodic changes in health states for adults across the lifespan, the third focusing on chronic disease management for adults across the lifespan, and the fourth focusing on complex, co-morbid conditions, special populations, and end of life issues for adults across the lifespan. The care of the child for the FNP will move to the middle of the course progressions as opposed to the final clinical course.

2013-2013 Development of an electronic portfolio for use with DNP Residents for submission of final Capstone proposal, abstract, manuscript, presentation, academic CV, and for Residents to demonstrate competency in the ANCC Essentials for the Doctor of Nursing Practice.

2013-2013 New courses developed and syllabus written to replace the current Pediatric theory I and Pediatric Practicum Course to a Family Centered Infant, Child, and Adolescent Theory Course and a Family Centered Infant, Child, and Adolescent Practicum Course to meet the specialized needs of the Family Nurse Practitioner student. Approved by Faculty, April, 2013.

2012-2013 New courses developed and syllabus written to replace the current Residency I and Residency II courses with Implementation and Implementation, Evaluation, Dissemination. Approved by Faculty April, 2013.

2012 Utilizing simulator evaluation of graduate nurse practitioner students entering clinical rotations.

2011-2013 Program planning for the transition of the Master's preparation for Nurse Practitioners to the DNP terminal degree.

Before a contract for goods or services can be amended or extended, a person or entity must certify that neither the person or entity, nor any parent entity, subsidiary, or affiliate, is identified on the Department of Treasury's Russia-Belarus list. Vent Termination Kits

Concentric Vents

Concentric vents make it easier to have a two-pipe installation for high efficiency furnaces. These vents simplify installation and only require one hole through the wall or roof where the pipes terminate. Without using these vents, the installation would require cutting two holes thorough the home (2in, 3in, or 4in depending on the furnace), one for each pipe. These vents save time and money by reducing the amount of work required. Available in 2in, 3in, or 4in intake vent sizes.
